

Sing along with Republic Federal Bank

Republic Federal Bank continues to roll out the red carpet with innovative customer service. Recently the bank hosted a special evening event that featured a sing along followed by a presentation on "How to maximize your FDIC insurance."

Dr. Rachel Lapidot, Sr. VP of Republic Federal mentioned, "We know that the economy is a concern for all our clients. We wanted to offer them a fun night, a celebration of Rosh Hashanah and specific tips to increase the amount of FDIC insurance by structuring their accounts according to FDIC guidelines."

The evening began with sumptuous hors d'oeuvres passed by bank staff giving everyone the opportunity to get to know the bank officers. Then, each invitee received a red wooden wicker basket containing apple slices and a small dipping dish full of honey. Following the tradition that started generations ago, everyone dipped a piece of the apple into the honey and in a symbolic request for a good and sweet year.

Bank representatives then presented the FDIC insurance program using the official FDIC video and instructed attendees how to use the FDIC calculator to increase their coverage. This information is available to the public on the internet at fdic.gov

To conclude the evening, song sheets were

passed around as an accordion player led the group in rousing renditions of popular songs. Republic Federal customer Sergio Yudovitz said, "It was such a fun night and we learned so much about the FDIC and got to meet some very friendly people. Republic Federal offers wonderful, personal customer service...it was great."
